

Springback

minimalist
lounge chair

Springback is a compact lounge chair with a calm, minimalist profile and a quietly clever construction. Natural oak panels soften the silhouette, while the black powder-coated steel frame gives the chair a crisp architectural line.

Springback feels light in the room yet confident in use. The low seat, curved back panel, and generous wood surfaces make it a natural fit for lounges, hospitality spaces, reception areas, reading corners, and modern workplace interiors.

In this version, the chair is offered with natural oak seat and back panels paired with a black powder-coated steel frame. The result is a balanced material expression: warm wood, slim metal, and a simple silhouette that looks refined without trying too hard. Its flat-pack concept keeps logistics efficient and assembly straightforward, making it a smart choice for projects that value clean design, practical installation, and lasting material character.
